Popular Rolling Stones tribute returns to Salón Varietés Theatre

The Honky Tonk Cats have performed their tribute show at venues all over Andalucía since they formed in 2010

TONY BRYANT

FUENGIROLA. Malaga rockers The Honky Tonk Cats will present their tribute to the "greatest rock and roll band in the world" at the Salón Varietés Theatre in Fuengirola on Friday 1 (today) and Saturday 2 December.

The Rolling Stones tribute band, fronted by Jagger look-a-like, Cedrik Michel, have performed the show at venues all over Andalucía since they were formed in 2010, attracting a large following because of their ability to recreate the ambiance of an authentic Stones concert.

The band's charismatic singer reproduces the distinctive voice of the Rolling Stones singer, along with his raunchy stage antics, while his backing band consists of some of Malaga's top musicians, so it promises to be a must for fans of the aging rock band, who are currently celebrating 60 years in the music business.

The group's extensive repertoire includes early Glimmer Twins hits like Paint it Black and Jumping Jack Flash, to iconic songs such as Sympathy for the Devil, Angie and Out of Control.

This is not the first time the group have performed at the theatre. Last year's shows attracted large audiences, so early reservations are advised.

Tickets for the shows, which start at 7.30pm, cost 20 euros and are available from the theatre's booking office between 11am and 2.30pm Monday to Friday, or one hour before the show.

Tickets can also be reserved on www.salon-varietestheatre.com

Collegium Musicum get festive with two concerts

The orchestra and choir will perform typical Christmas music. SUR.

TONY BRYANT

COSTA DEL SOL. The Collegium Musicum Costa del Sol choir and orchestra will present two concerts of Christmas music from around the world in Fuengirola and Marbella this month.

Musical director Delyth Bressington said the ensemble will perform a repertoire of seasonal music “full of vibrant rhythms and enchanting melodies”.

The performances will feature two up-and-coming young musicians: mezzo-soprano Sofia Hvid-Hansen, from Mijas, and British bassoonist George Bailey, who will perform a bassoon concerto with the orchestra.

Born in Oxford in 2005, the young musician started playing the bassoon at the age of eight at his local primary school, and he is currently studying his first semester for his Bachelors of Music in the Muho-Mannheim music school in Germany.

The first concert will be held in the Salon Real of the IPV Palace and Spa Hotel in Fuengirola on Sunday 10 December at 7.30pm. Tickets for the performance cost 12 euros (free entry for children under 16) and are available from the IPV Palace Hotel, Lepanto Café (Fuengirola), or on the night of the concert.

The second concert will be held in the Iglesia de la Encarnación in Marbella old town at 8.30pm on Tuesday 12 December. The event, sponsored by Doctor Yusuf Hamied, is free, although organisers are asking for donations to support local charities during the festive season.
